

JACKSONVILLE COMMUNITY COUNCIL INC.

Annual Report

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

"How wonderful it is that nobody need wait a single moment before starting to improve the world!"

Anne Frank

This past year has aroused memories of the mid-sixties for me. Bobby Dylan's ballad, "The Times They Are a-Changin'", and Kennedy's quoting of a supposed Chinese curse, "May he live in interesting times," capture 2006-2007 rather well. It has been a year of remarkable accomplishments and also remarkable changes. We have experienced challenges to home rule, insurance and property tax reform, local budget reductions, and even a new date for the Florida presidential primaries.

Our year began with the launch of JCCI's 67th study, Air Quality: Energy, Environment and Economy in October 2006. Quinton White led this 43-member study committee during an extraordinary period when local, state and national attention began focusing on the same issues we were studying. Public opinion and political direction shifted measurably during the study in ways that would reinforce the study's findings and align with its recommendations. The study's advocacy task force, headed by Don Anderson, has begun work to implement those recommendations.

As part of our strategy to place more emphasis on the work invested in fighting for implementation of recommendations, JCCI hosted its first public release of an implementation task force's final report by highlighting the hard work of Chris Arab's Public Education Phase II: Eliminating the Achievement Gap Task Force. We plan to continue this practice as part of our contract with the community and to belie the notion that JCCI "just does studies."

JCCI released its 22nd Quality of Life Progress Report in January 2007. Steve Wallace and his Quality of Life Review Committee made several improvements to the report and cited education as the common thread linking many of the challenges facing our community. His team also red-flagged Jacksonville's infant mortality rate. This helped influence the JCCI Board to pick that topic for our 2008 study. The study begins on October 18th and will complete its work in late April 2008.

Our first update to the 2005 Race Relations Progress Report was completed under the leadership of Betty Carley. The 2006 Race Relations Progress Report responds to a key recommendation from the 2002 study, Beyond the Talk: Improving Race Relations, which called on JCCI to create an annual report card on Jacksonville's progress in eliminating racial disparities and discrimination.

Our leadership program, JCCI Forward, underwent significant change in the past year with continued implementation of its new strategic direction, turnover of three program chairs due to business relocations, and execution of two cutting edge Issue Forums, one addressing the status and impact of our gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender community and the other examining ways to reduce our youth suicide rate. The Issue Forum on suicide garnered Mental Health America of Northeast Florida's Community Leadership Award for contributing to public awareness of this tragic issue. Forward continues to be our engine for membership growth and beehive of workshop, training, social and other activities. Special thanks to Michael Connolly for stepping up very early to fill the leadership gap and take Forward into 2008.

JCCI contract work continues to play an important role in sharing our skills and raising funds to meet our core responsibilities. We continue work supporting the City's Blue Ribbon Commission on Cemeteries, facilitating the Mayor's Convention Center Task Force, and working on Florida quality of life indicators for the Century Commission for a Sustainable Florida. We have maintained our national and international connections hosting the 5th Annual International Community Indicators Conference here last year and through Ben Warner's presentation to European officials in Rennes, France.

This year has brought JCCI's funding into sharp focus with the change in our role as administrative arm of the Human Services Council and City funding for most JCCI programs reduced or eliminated. Of special concern is termination of funds for the JCCI community study, ending a decades-old relationship. The funding is very important but so too is its symbolism as the City's commitment and openness to independent, impartial, citizen-based studies of community issues and community strategies to address them.

Special thanks to our Board leadership, our committed volunteers, and supporters throughout the community who make our very important work possible. Your enthusiasm and generosity in giving of your time, talent and treasure are deeply appreciated not only by me but by the community that benefits from the results of our combined effort.

Skip Cranna

ABOUT JCCI

Like every city, Jacksonville has its challenges, and determining how to face those challenges is the role of the Jacksonville Community Council Inc. (JCCI). Every day, JCCI brings people together to learn about pressing issues in our community and to find solutions. All with the goal of making Jacksonville a great place to live. JCCI is ... citizens building a better community.

OUR HISTORY

JCCI was created in 1975 as a result of the Amelia Island Community Planning Conference to examine community issues by bringing together a broad cross-section of the population. In its 32 years, JCCI has provided a forum and a structure through which groups of informed, concerned citizens have made a difference in public policy decisions. When enough people care to act, the course of an entire city can change.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

Jacksonville Community Council Inc. (JCCI) is a nonpartisan civic organization that engages diverse citizens in open dialogue, research, consensus building, advocacy and leadership development to improve the quality of life and build a better community in Northeast Florida and beyond.

MAKING POSITIVE CHANGE

Each year, citizen volunteers and JCCI committees identify problems facing our city. With their input, issues are selected to become the subject of an in-depth study. Committees made up of ordinary citizens meet weekly for six months to unravel the causes of a problem and make recommendations to resolve it.

When the study is published, a JCCI volunteer task force presents it to the community at large, to government, to business and others advocating for the changes the study suggests. Since 1975, decision-makers have given these studies the consideration and the action they deserve. And they have worked to make our area a better place for all residents.

STUDIES

AIR QUALITY: ENERGY, ENVIRONMENT AND ECONOMY

The Air Quality: Energy, Environment and Economy study addresses how Jacksonville can reduce airborne pollutants to improve its natural environment, economy and public health. The study identifies the important sources of airborne pollutants in Jacksonville, including particulate matter, ozone and carbon. The study recommends public policy steps that can be taken locally, regionally, nationally and internationally to improve air quality.

For nine months, Dr. Quinton White, Jr. led his 43-member study committee. The study committee met from October 2006 to May 2007. The study release was held June 22 at the Schultz Center for Teaching and Leadership. Nearly 150 people attended. The guest speaker was Steve Seibert, Executive Director of the Governor's Century Commission for a Sustainable Florida.

QUALITY OF LIFE PROGRESS REPORT

The release of JCCI's 2006 Quality of Life Progress Report was held January 22 at City Hall. The 22nd edition outlines clear priorities for action in Jacksonville and Northeast Florida for the coming year.

The top priority identified in the report is education. A new indicator measures the percent of adults with bachelor's degrees or higher, a key benchmark for communities seeking to remain competitive in the global knowledge-based economy. It immediately received a Red Flag. Red Flags mark indicators moving in a negative direction or that need immediate action from the community.

The report includes 111 indicators that reflect trends in nine external environments: Achieving Educational Excellence; Growing a Vibrant Economy; Preserving the Natural Environment; Promoting Social Wellbeing and Harmony; Enjoying Arts, Culture and Recreation; Sustaining a Healthy Community; Maintaining a Responsive Government; Moving Around Efficiently; and Keeping the Community Safe.

The Quality of Life Progress Report provides information about the status of our community and of our collective well-being. By familiarizing ourselves with these indicators, we become better informed. By using these indicators, we can work together to build a better community.

The indicators serve as warning signs and as tools to encourage and promote positive change. You can help. Share the information. Learn more. Advocate for positive change. Support efforts in the community to measure, track, and improve elements of the quality of life. Get involved in the community to make a difference.

Dr. Steven Wallace, President of Florida Community College at Jacksonville chaired the citizen review committee. The report is available on the JCCI website at www.jcci.org.

RACE RELATIONS PROGRESS REPORT

JCCI released its second annual Race Relations Progress Report on Dec. 14, 2006 at City Hall. JCCI's Race Relations Progress Report gives Jacksonville an objective tool for tracking progress, prioritizing action and stimulating institutional change in six areas of documented racial disparity: education, income and employment, housing, health, criminal justice and the political process.

One of the 27 recommendations from the 2002 Beyond the Talk: Improving Race Relations study was to create an annual report card on race relations in Jacksonville. The report card is modeled after JCCI's Quality of Life Progress Report.

Betty Carley chaired the 2006 Race Relations Progress Report review committee.

IMPLEMENTATIONS

ATTRACTING AND RETAINING TALENT: PEOPLE AND JOBS FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

The Attracting and Retaining Talent Task Force began meeting in the summer of 2006. Adrienne Conrad chairs the task force, which has formed a subcommittee for each of the three recommendations from the study. Their focus areas are: development of an expanding research and development infrastructure; expanding and marketing distinctive activity clusters in neighborhoods; and boosting branding efforts to focus on Jacksonville's strengths.

RIVER DANCE: PUTTING THE RIVER IN RIVER CITY

The final implementation report was presented to the JCCI Board of Directors at its September 2007 meeting. The River Dance Task Force, chaired by Jim Overton, has achieved progress on a majority of the nine recommendations that came out of the study to access, protect, celebrate and improve the health of the St. Johns River. The public release of this report will occur in the fall of 2007.

PUBLIC EDUCATION REFORM: ELIMINATING THE ACHIEVEMENT GAP

JCCI held its first ever public event for the Public Education Phase II: Eliminating the Achievement Gap Task Force. The task force, led by Christine Arab, made significant progress in helping raise awareness throughout the community. Strong support and leadership for the development of a community-wide dialogue has been provided by The Community Foundation, Mayor Peyton's emphasis on early literacy, the vision of Superintendent Wise and the School Board, the Alliance for World Class Education, United Way of Northeast Florida, the Chamber of Commerce and Blueprint for Prosperity. With seven of 14 study recommendations fully implemented and five partially complete, a solid groundwork has been laid for future progress in reducing and eventually eliminating the achievement gap.

HUMAN SERVICES COUNCIL

The Human Services Council was created in 1982 as the result of a JCCI human services study. Composed primarily of major human services funders, the HSC partners promote best practices, seek continuous improvements to existing systems, and collaborate on joint funding projects. The Council has been very successful in its work, establishing a common funding application, developing tools to monitor agency funding and service delivery, conducting human services needs assessments, and advocacy.

Under the leader of HSC Chair Nancy Dreicer, the HSC began a strategic planning process in January 2006 that led to a new mission, vision and structure for the Council. JCCI's role within the new HSC changed from administrative support to HSC member. In 2007-2008, JCCI's United Way Planner will provide research services to the HSC, which will result in a new Human Services Master Plan for Jacksonville.

FIVE O'CLOCK FORUMS

Five O'Clock Forums welcome citizens from all walks of life to speak out on topics that affect our region.

Dorcas Tanner facilitated the November 2006 Forum on "Throw Away Lives: Controlling Our Unwanted Pet Population." Forty-five people from four counties attended the forum, including animal welfare advocates, animal control officials and concerned citizens.

JCCI forums of various lengths will increase in 2007-2008. Please visit our website at www.jcci.org for the latest calendar of events.

LUNCH AND LEARNS

In 2007, JCCI hosted four Lunch & Learn sessions over the noon hour at JCCI. The Membership Committee started this program nearly two years ago. Lunch and Learns are open to JCCI and JCCI Forward members only. Those attending are encouraged to bring a brown bag lunch. The following lists the topics and guest speakers:

"What should the community be doing to solve the homeless problem?" Wanda Lanier, former head of the Emergency Services and Homeless Coalition – Thursday, February 15

"Three Wishes...or more: How can Jacksonville better support our public schools?" – Superintendent Joseph Wise – Thursday, April 26

"Fixing Florida's problems...Our hurricane insurance & property tax crises." – Representative Audrey Gibson – Wednesday, June 27

"The Doctor is In: Jacksonville's diagnosis, prognosis and prescription for better health." – Dr. Robert G. Harmon, Duval County Health Department – Wednesday, August 22

Duval County Public Schools Superintendent Joseph Wise addresses the crowd at the April Lunch and Learn.

JCCI FORWARD

FINANCE REPORT

JCCI receives funds from many sources. Because JCCI strives for credibility, objectivity and independence in its work, diverse funding is essential. In fiscal year 2006, JCCI members and the local business community provided 40 percent of our funds. United Way of Northeast Florida contracts with JCCI for human services planning and research. Contracts for services and special grant supported projects generate supplemental funds. The thousands of volunteer hours donated each year are one of JCCI's most important resources, although not reflected in the annual budget.

JCCI COUNCIL OF STEWARDS

Patricia Hogan

JCCI's Council of Stewards represents a reservoir of experience and wisdom providing a solid foundation for our operations through sustained financial support. For many, the connection with JCCI began at the historical Amelia Island Conference. A study, a volunteer task force, a Quality of Life review, or the endorsement of a respected friend were the links for others. No matter how they were introduced, all value JCCI's ability to openly explore issues that impact the vitality of Jacksonville.

Membership is granted to individuals who pledge gifts of $5,000 or more across three years. The time commitment is minimal (two informal receptions, often at the home of fellow Stewards) and includes optional participation in small group conversations on JCCI programs or plans that are in the works.

The mission of the Council is to offer wisdom and ideas about key JCCI programs and to provide JCCI with significant and sustained support. Members are kept well-informed of JCCI's work and invited to express their views to the board of directors.

Patricia Hogan served as Vice President of Stewards in 2007.
